CANTON CAPTURE REPORT UNCONFIRMED

Japanese Vanguard Reach Tsungfa

GENERAL YU HON-MOU REPORTED AT KOYIU

Government Officials Move To Fatshan

REPORTS WHICH WERE CIRCULATING IN THE COLONY TO THE EFFECT THAT CANTON CITY HAD FALLEN TO THE JAPANESE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON REMAINED OFFICIALLY UNCONFIRMED UP TO AN EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING.

Normal means of communication between Hongkong and Canton having been disrupted, newspapers and news agencies yesterday found it impossible or extremely difficult to establish connections with the Kwangtung capital.

ACCORDING TO UNCONFIRMED INFORMATION FROM A RELIABLE SOURCE IN MACAO, THE STATEMENT THAT THE JAPANESE HAVE CAPTURED CANTON IS UNTRUE. JAPANESE VANGUARDS ARE SAID TO HAVE REACHED TSUNGFA, 25 MILES NORTH-EAST OF CANTON, AND ARE DRIVING IN THE DIRECTION OF THE CAPITAL.

IN TOUCH WITH CANTON

An announcement by Cable and Wireless Ltd. at 10 a.m. yesterday that wireless communication with Canton was terminated was followed by one in the afternoon that they had regained touch.

The Canton station has been removed to Shamen and radiograms will be delivered only to Shamen.

It is learned from another source that 11 Japanese warships yesterday shelled the Chinese forts at Bocca Tigris in the Pearl River.

OFFICIALS LEAVE

Reports that the Canton officials had left Canton caused a sensation yesterday, but it was subsequently learned that government officials had only moved to Fatshan, across the river, a short distance from Canton city.

General Yu Hon-mou, Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangtung forces, has gone to Koyiu, a town on the West River.

Hongkong was rife with rumours last night. The earlier reports of the fall of the Kwangtung capital came like a bolt from the blue but met with general scepticism.

Other reports received to the effect that Chinese troops had abandoned the city were likewise doubted, since General Yu, returning from the front on Thursday, was reported to have declared that the situation was satisfactory.

STILL UNCONFIRMED

Shanghai, Oct. 21. Rumours that motorized Japanese units had entered Canton on Friday are still unconfirmed by the Japanese authorities here. According to official Japanese statements, Japanese troops were on Friday night about 25 kilometres east of Canton without meeting major Chinese resistance.

$8,000,000 Pearl River Bridge Blown Up

VANGUARDS OF THE JAPANESE ARMY reached the environs of Canton at 2.30 p.m. to-day and were closely followed by tanks and other mechanical units about 3.30 p.m. A considerable force was in occupation of the eastern sections of the city by 5 p.m.

The blowing-up this morning of the Pearl River Bridge, which connects Canton proper with Honam, built at a cost of $8,000,000, gave foreign residents here the first indication that the situation had taken a turn for the worse since yesterday.

During the day factories, and public utilities were also blown up. A party of foreign journalists last night attempted to proceed to the front, but was turned back by the retreating Chinese troops.

Meanwhile, Shamen continues to be comparatively calm. Both the British and French authorities have placed national flags at regular intervals around the borders of the Concessions, while pill-boxes in both Concessions are manned by bluejackets with machine-guns to cope with any possible rush of Chinese crowds to Shamen Island.

Evacuation of the native sections, however, continues in an orderly manner and no untoward incident has hitherto occurred in the vicinity of Shamen.—Reuter.

The telegram also states that a formidable army of 100,000 Kwangsi troops, under a prominent Kwangsi leader, arrived yesterday afternoon near Canton, and that trenches and fortifications are being constructed for the defence of the city.

Garrison Headquarters in Canton yesterday promulgated an urgent decree requiring all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 40 to remain in the city, according to another source. They are required to register with the police within three days, failing which will render them liable to punishment under military law.

Eight Japanese planes this morning raided Yungyun, on the Kwangtung-Kwangsi border, and dropped several bombs, demolishing a number of houses and killing several people.—Central News.

Fierce Battle Raging Near Tsengshing

(Received 2 a.m.)
Hankow, Oct. 22. Severe fighting is raging between Chinese and Japanese troops around Tsengshing, according to reports from Canton. A column of 1,000 Japanese troops is said to be engaged in this sector.

Another Japanese column is stated to be advancing from Yangtsun on Pingling.

Eight Japanese planes this morning raided Yungyun, on the Kwangtung-Kwangsi border, and dropped several bombs, demolishing a number of houses and killing several people.—Central News.

FRENCH AIR FORCE OF 5,000 PLANES

Creation In Two Years

Paris, Oct. 21. The creation of a French air force of 5,000 planes within two years is announced by the Air Minister, M. Guy La Chambre.

The Minister added that French aircraft factories were already speeding up production and the increase in production is one-third of last month.

By the beginning of next year full production will be in force. Whether 5,000 planes will be adequate will have to be decided by the French air authorities.

The Air Minister declared that enlarged production was more a question of finance than technical ability.—Reuter.

PROPOSALS REJECTED BY RUMANIA

Polish Demands For Common Frontier

Bucharest, Oct. 21. The proposals made here yesterday by the Polish Foreign Minister, Colonel Beck, aiming at the creation, with Rumania's consent, of a common Polish-Hungarian frontier at the cost of further partitioning of Czechoslovakia have been rejected, according to political circles in Bucharest, by the Rumanian Government for the following six reasons:

Rumania wants to be loyal to wards Czechoslovakia.

Rumania wishes economic and political co-operation with Prague.

Rumania is not desirous of helping to strengthen Hungary.

Rumania has reason to be critical in regard to Hungary's assurances concerning Transylvania.

Rumania does not want to be forced into a change of her policy towards Germany.

Rumania sees in a realisation of a common Polish-Hungarian frontier the project of a threat to her border districts of Bukovina and Transylvania.—Transocean.

BRITISH ATTITUDE

London, Oct. 21. The British Government's attitude to the Hungarian minority claims is that they should be based on racial grounds and not on strategic or political aspirations of Hungary. This attitude has been conveyed to the Hungarian and Polish Governments.—Reuter.

HUNDREDS DEAD: 592 INJURED IN BIG JAPAN TYPHOON

Kagoshima Prefecture Devastated: Thousands Rendered Homeless

TOKYO ALSO STRUCK

Tokyo, October 21. TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY SIX PERSONS WERE KILLED, 592 are missing and 592 are injured as the result of a typhoon which devastated Kagoshima Prefecture early to-day. As far as is known, 2,368 houses were swept away, rendering 35,000 people homeless.

THE TYPHOON SUBSEQUENTLY STRUCK TOKYO in the early morning and over 10,000 houses were flooded, a number of which collapsed while thousands of trees were uprooted.

Telephone and tramway services are partly paralysed and most of the schools have been closed.

Train services from Tokyo were disorganised, tens of thousands of workmen being unable to reach their place of employment to-day.

The typhoon also caused much damage at Yokohama from where all sailings were suspended. Seven passenger ships, including the Blue Funnel liner Antenor, due to arrive there this morning, did not arrive.—Reuter.

CHINESE RETAKE SHAWO

Heavy Fighting Near Tehan

Hankow, Oct. 21. Shawo, south-western corner of Honan near the Hupoh boundary, was recaptured by Chinese troops according to a military spokesman at last night's press conference. The spokesman added that Kiangshun, well-known summer resort, is still in Chinese hands. A small group of foreigners intend to remain there.

The situation at Huangshihkang, about 70 miles down-stream from Hankow, is somewhat obscure. The spokesman confirmed that heavy fighting was progressing in the south particularly in the neighbourhood of the Tayeh-Yangsin highway.

It is admitted that Yangsin, a smaller town, Yangsinchen, have been captured by the Japanese but Tehan, on the Kianglung-Nanchang Railway, is still held by the Chinese, it is claimed.

On the north bank of the Yangtze, the Japanese forces are reported to be pushing vigorously towards Kishui, north-east of Huangshihkang. Chinese and Japanese troops are facing each other across the narrow river.—Reuter.

DESTRUCTION WITH RAILWAY

Kinhsu, Oct. 21. Chinese guerrillas operating along the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway succeeded in damaging six bridges on the line on October 12 and 15, according to a belated report.

In addition to the railway bridges, the guerrillas have also blasted up nine bridges along the Shanghai-Hangchow highway, and more than 300 telegraph poles.

On October 19, the guerrillas launched a sudden attack on the Japanese at Kashing, and killed more than a score of Japanese.—Central News.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

MISSION SUNDAY

To-morrow is Mission Sunday, that is, the day on which the Catholic Church calls the attention of all its members to the work of spreading the Faith throughout the world. The "Propagation of the Faith" is the term which the Church uses, and it is officially employed in connection with two important organizations: the "Congregation" for the Propagation of the Faith and the "Society" for the same purpose.

The former is sometimes referred to by its Latin title De Propaganda Fide. It is one of the important Congregations attached to the central administration of the Church and has a Cardinal as its head. The present Prefect is Cardinal Fumasoni Biondi, formerly Apostolic Delegate to the United States. This Congregation deals with all the parts of the world in which the regular hierarchy is not formally established, so that every place in which the Bishop has the title of Vicar Apostolic comes under the administration of the Congregation of Propaganda.

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith was formed two centuries after the "Congregation," and is now a little more than a hundred years in existence. It is an international association of those who promise to help the missions by regular prayers and contributions. It developed from the humble efforts of a French working girl, Pauline Jaricot, and has now spread over the whole world. It works in connection with the Congregation and its President is the Secretary of the Congregation. The present holder of the dual office is Archbishop Constantini, formerly Apostolic Delegate to China.

A POLISH CARDINAL

Recent celebrations in honour of the episcopal jubilee of Cardinal Kakowski, the Archbishop of Warsaw, revealed the depth of the affection in which he is held by the Polish people. The jubilee was the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration as a bishop, and the priests and people of the country united in establishing a Museum of Sacred Art as a permanent memorial of the occasion.

During the years in which he has governed the See of Warsaw there have been 290 churches built in the diocese. Some of them were built to replace earlier churches which were destroyed during the war, but the majority of them are new, and are an indication of the great headway which the Church is making in Poland. In addition to the churches, a large number of Catholic institutions have been built in Warsaw during the years of Cardinal Kakowski's administration.

An interesting fact of the Cardinal's career is that it was he who consecrated the present Pope as Bishop. This took place when Pius XI, the Mgr. Ratti, was appointed Papal Nuncio to Warsaw, in 1919.

QUEEN MARY AT STONYHURST

In one of her recent tours through the English counties Queen Mary, accompanied by the Princess Royal, paid a visit to Stonyhurst College. This is not the first Catholic institution which Her Majesty has visited in her tours, but it is one of the most interesting, for the history of the College goes back for nearly three and a half centuries, and records of all periods of its history are preserved in the College.

The actual date of the opening of Stonyhurst was 1794, but the College was the successor of that established at St. Omer more than two centuries before when, during the time of persecution, it was impossible for Catholic boys to get an education in England without sacrificing their Faith. The character of the early students of the school is proved from the fact that they included eighteen martyrs, all of whom died for their religion in England.

The original college building and estate belonged to Thomas Weld of Lulworth, an old pupil of St. Omer, who donated them for the benefit of Catholic education. In recent years the College has been known to a wider section of the public because of its Observatory, which was founded a century ago this year. The best known of the directors of the Observatory was Fr. Stephen Perry, who lost his life half a century ago while engaged on an astronomical expedition for the British Government in the West Indies. Another notable feature of the College is its library, which was visited by Queen Mary on her visit. Among its treasures is a First Folio Shakespeare.

FORMER JOCKEY A MISSIONARY IN CHINA

Among the "strange, but true" facts recently published in an English paper was the statement that a jockey who once rode in the Grand National is now a Jesuit in China. It is quite true, and, though his riding has finished on the turf it still continues in China, though the rider is eighty years of age.

He is Fr. Paul de Gelois, a Frenchman, and in his day the most popular jockey in France. He is now working in the province of Kiangsu. He rode till he was forty and then an accident compelled him to give it up. It was in his sudden idleness that the decision came to him to give up his life to work as a missionary. He joined the Society of Jesus and in due course completed his studies, and was ordained.

He has been working in China for many years. He is known as Lao Su and is as popular with his Catholics around Hsuehowfu as he was with the spectators at Auteuil. He uses his riding skill now only when he gives chase to bandits. At present his district is within the war zone.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Hongkong

SUBJECT—PROBATION AFTER DEATH

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, to-morrow October 23 will be "Probation After Death."

The Golden Text will be "God shall bring every work unto judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil." (Ecclesiastes 12, 14).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible, "Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." (Galatians 6: 7-9).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "If the Principle, rule, and demonstration of man's being are not in the least understood before what is termed death overtakes mortals, they will rise no higher spiritually in the scale of existence on account of that single experience, but will remain as material as before the transition, still seeking happiness through a material, instead of through a spiritual sense of life, and from selfish and inferior motives. To be wholly spiritual, man must be sinless, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection." (Page 290).

WOMEN DOCTORS PRAISED

Inaugural Address By Lord Horder

Women doctors were praised by Lord Horder when he delivered the inaugural address to the students of the London (Royal Free Hospital) School of Medicine for Women recently.

"I have met quite a lot of women doctors," said Lord Horder, "and by this time I am fairly at home with them. (Laughter)."

"After all," he continued, "what is more natural than that women should take to doctoring, or that they should have succeeded in this profession? Is there so much difference between doctoring and nursing, at which women's success calls for no surprise and still less congratulation?"

"I believe the good man doctor has a little more of the feminine in him than has the average man."

Lord Horder believed it to be a fact that the proportion of charlatans among women was much smaller than among men.

"You are also said to have more intuition than we have, and there are those who think that this should give you an advantage over us in the direction of what is sometimes called 'clinical instinct.' You are more thorough, which is, I suppose, a part of your greater conscientiousness, and heavens, how thorough you can be!"

MORE CURIOUS SEX

"You are, as a sex, more curious than we are, and this curiosity has already borne fruit in the hands of those women who have made their names famous in research."

"That you are more industrious and more studious I am, with shame, compelled to admit, but I would warn you against vaunting yourselves overmuch about this virtue, for, if indulged in to excess, this may, like any other virtue, prove to be your undoing."

MUCH-MARRIED MAN TAMED

Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper form a brilliant new comedy team, while the direction of Ernst Lubitsch brings out the punch of the French background in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the picture of life among Europe's smart set which is presented at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

The story, adapted from the famous play by Alfred Savoir, tells of a much-married American millionaire who is subdued by his eighth wife, whom he marries for a new thrill.

There is here a lightness of touch and spontaneity of humour which put the picture out in front of other screen comedies of the season.

NORMA SHEARER NAMED IN SUIT BY STOCKHOLDERS

Louis B. Mayer Norma Shearer, and Mervyn LeRoy, the producer, are among the defendants named in a suit filed in the Chancery Court by three stockholders in Loew's Incorporated.

The three stockholders allege that excessive compensation is provided for under contracts by Loew's Incorporated with executives and other individuals to the detriment of the stockholders.

The defendants include Edwin J. Loeb and the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association as executives and trustees of the estate of Irving Thalberg—Norma Shearer's husband. Nicholas M. Schenck, Arthur M. Loew, and others, too, are named in the bill.

The complainants allege that the contracts "defraud the Corporation and stockholders, illegally dissipate profits, and are in effect and substance a spoliation and waste of corporate assets and property."

The bill charges Mr. Mayer with causing actors, actresses, directors, producers and other individuals who obtained employment from Loew's "first to be represented by and obtain the services of, one Orsat as booking agent at a fee of 10 per cent. of salary received by them," and that Mr. Mayer and J. Robert Rubin, another defendant, directly or indirectly owned or controlled this agency.

Last July Loew's Incorporated were among eight of the largest film companies named in the Government's anti-trust suit filed in the New York Federal Court.

The Government alleged that the companies divided territories, pooled film stars, exchanged directors, and forced independent exhibitors into signing inflexible contracts.

AN ARMY OF FACTORY GIRLS SENT HOME

New Life Movement Plan Put Into Effect

Most of the 30,000 Chinese women and young girls, comprising the factory girls in the Wuhan area and those skilled women workers, who had fled to Hankow from areas in Shanghai, Wushu, Nanking and Wuhu have either been sent back to their home villages in western Hupeh or removed to Szechuan and Shensi provinces, where they will be given opportunities to start small-scale industries.

Of these 30,000 women workers, 10,000 are the factory girls from four leading cotton mills in Hankow and Wuchang, which have been closed down recently by government order in furtherance of the national plan to move industries and their operatives deeper into the interior.

The responsibility of removing these factory girls to the interior was taken by the Women's Advisory Committee of the New Life Movement Headquarters, of which Madame Chiang Kai-shek is the leader.

The committee received great assistance from the National Military Council, the Ministry of Economic Affairs and the Ministry of Communications in shifting these unfortunate girls to the inland districts.

Before they were sent away, these workers were given brief training at a temporary camp established in Hankow by the committee. Beside giving them some work to do, such as making underwear for the Chinese soldiers and knitting comfort articles, the girls were instructed in public hygiene, the New Life Movement principles and the full significance of present-day citizenship in China.

To prepare them for future hardships on the way to the interior, these girls were required to undergo an hour of physical exercise every morning.

The majority of these factory girls were sent to Chungking, China's new capital in Szechuan Province, and to Shensi Province. Arrangements have been made with the Chinese Industrial Cooperatives to absorb many of the girls in small home industries, such as making winter garments, stockings and towels and producing daily articles.

Before the arrival of machinery from the Wuhan area they will be required to work by hand. But as soon as the machinery is set up factory work will be recommenced on a small scale.

HOME SECRETARY TELLS WHY GREAT BRITAIN IS ARMING PREPARES AGAINST POSSIBLE CHANGES IN POLITICAL SCENE

London, October 21. If Mr. Chamberlain has not thrown himself body, soul and spirit into the cause of peace, the world to-day would already have been plunged into chaos and a catastrophe such as it had never suffered in all the centuries, declared Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, speaking at Clacton yesterday.

In view of his inspiring achievements, how petty, partisan and spiteful seemed to be the murmurs of disparagement against him, added Sir Samuel. Some said that this man had given away to Hitler's bluff, and that if he had been firm at the start, and threatened Hitler with war, there would have been no crisis.

Franco-German Amity Pact Possible

Paris, Oct. 21. The possibility of a Franco-German pact involving a German declaration of non-aggression is mooted in the newspapers here, some of which discuss rumours that negotiations are already under way.

Madame Tabouis, writing in "L'Ouvre," refers to the suggestion that the French Ambassador had discussed such plans with Herr Hitler's entourage, and that the German Ambassador's interviews with M. Daladier and M. Bonnet yesterday might be a prelude to such an agreement. Madame Tabouis, however, mentions the rumours with due reserve.

"Pertinax" writing in "Ordre" says that it is impossible to judge with accuracy the rumours, but the conclusion may be drawn that Germany regards it as opportune to try and induce Britain and France not to accelerate their military preparations, and to strike Eastern Europe off their balance sheets.

BLUM, DALADIER CONFERENCE

M. Leon Blum yesterday spent an hour in conference with the Premier, Mr. Daladier. It is believed that the conference arose out of M. Daladier's intention of seeking a Government of a broader basis.

The question of dissolving Parliament, around which there has recently been much speculation, is now slowly receding into the background.—Reuter.

EXCEPTIONS TO JEWISH BAN

Italy Replies To America

Washington, Oct. 21. Important exceptions to the decree restricting Jewish rights in Italy have been made by the Fascist Grand Council, states the Italian reply to the United States note of October 4 asking that American Jews in Italy should not be molested.

The reply adds that a special commission has been established to examine individual cases of both Italian and foreign Jews, and promises that American Jews in Italy would not be treated less favourably than other foreign Jews.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, told pressmen at a conference yesterday that the United States Government was following up all phases of the question.—Reuter.

LORD STANLEY BURIED

London, Oct. 21. Lord Stanley, who until his death was Dominions Secretary, was buried yesterday at Knowlsey where a private funeral service was attended by Lord Derby, the father, and other family mourners.

At a memorial service at Westminster Abbey at which the King and Queen were represented, the Prime Minister and nearly all members of the Cabinet as well as Dominions High Commissioners and members of the Diplomatic Corps were present.—British Wireless.

POLISH VISIT TO HUNGARY

Political Interest Aroused

Budapest, Oct. 21. Political interest during the last few days has been focused on the visit to the Hungarian capital of the Polish Government's representative, M. Lubinski.

It was reliably learned yesterday that the Polish statesman, in a series of discussions which he had with Premier Imredy, Foreign Minister von Kanya and Count Czakay of the Hungarian Foreign Office, all problems of mutual interest to the two countries were reviewed at length.

M. Lubinski is returning to Warsaw by air to-day in order to report to President Moscicki personally on the outcome of his conversations.—Transocean.

WHY BRITAIN ARMS

Sir Samuel Hoare said he had been asked why he had urged the need for greater security to Britain and the Empire.

Here he referred to Hitler's statement that "at any moment Mr. Chamberlain could be succeeded by an Eden, Duff-Cooper or Churchill," and continued: "I believe Hitler's peaceful aspirations, but like Hitler, I must be prepared for some successor who may not hold his views."

"In these circumstances I adopt Hitler's own motto 'Always ready for peace and at any hour ready for defence.'"

"I also agree with Hitler when he says that as a strong state we can be ready at any time to pursue a policy of understanding with the surrounding states."

"The very condition of future peace is British strength. No peacefully disposed nation need have any fear of British arms."—Reuter.

Education Of Muslim Girls Urged

A STIRRING appeal to the members of the Muslim community in Colombo to make every possible effort within their power to provide more facilities for the education of their girls was made by His Holiness Moulana Abdul Aleem Siddiqi, founder and life patron of the Muslim Missionary Society of Ceylon in his farewell address at the Town Hall, Colombo, recently.

"Women, and women alone," he said "are responsible for the education of our youngsters. An educated mother knows and realizes the value of giving her son the benefit of a good education. If she is illiterate then her children too may follow her example.

His Holiness said that the best service anyone could render to humanity was to guide others in the right path. So long as the Muslims did not neglect the missionary message of their Holy Prophet they were a supreme nation, but their decadence began with the negligence of that duty.

Islam placed before them a complete model for their life, and it was the duty of every Muslim to follow the precepts of his religion. He also warned his brethren not to be misled or be cheated by those who called themselves Alims and who in fact had no right to that title.

"You should not rely," he said, "on Alims to teach you your religion. It is the duty of every Muslim to learn it for himself."

His Holiness then spoke of some of the more urgent needs of the Muslim Missionary Society in Colombo among which, he said, was a good library where Muslim books in English and other languages could be made available. They should also open more night schools for the education of their illiterate brothers.

Smart Paris Has A Washing Problem

Nearly all Paris laundries and cleaners recently closed their shops while they took two weeks' holiday. They find it cheaper to give all their staff holidays at the same time.

The result is that, while such things as household linen, underwear and handkerchiefs which are possessed in quantity can reasonably wait, white frocks and white suits which have been such an essential feature of this warm summer must be worn soiled, or discarded in favour of inappropriately warmer clothing.

Hotel and hospital linen continues to be washed as usual. There has been a lively exchange of opinion in the Paris press on the position.

One paper rumbles that nobody likes wearing the same shirt for a fortnight or so.

Another replies tartly that soap and water cost little, and the writer should be prepared, in order to give the laundry employees their holiday, to wash his own shirt, as he did when in the army.

ever accept so miserable a conclusion as that.

The difference between the cost of a "Bowl of Rice" dinner and a banquet was given to the relief fund.

Round About

The cool, chilly evenings and early mornings of the past week provide deep, healthy rest and an abundance of energy.

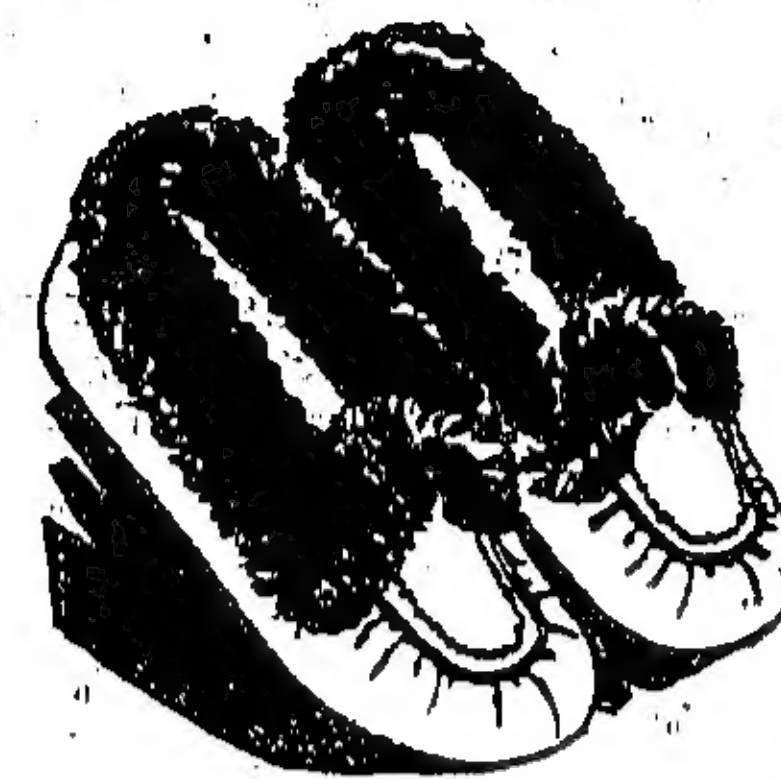

One-thirty a.m., when all good children are in bed, one of the night hawks was wending his way homeward.

Walking along a solitary echoing thoroughfare of Kowloon, his thoughts were disturbed by deep and light laughter. Peering down the spasmic-lighted street he beheld an unusual scene.

Five bicycles were being peddled down the road. Three gentlemen, immaculately attired in dinner clothes, and two lovely damsels in dinner gowns, their jewels flashing in the street lamp light, rode by.

"Good morning!" said one and all, continued down the street on their bicycles. The bystander starts on his way, musing on the spirit in Hongkong nights.

Make-Up For Round Face

GOOD START AGAINST LINES

BE THANKFUL IF YOUR FACE IS ROUND AND PLUMP; you have a good start against lines and wrinkles, and the odds are that even when you are feeling tired, you won't show it.

This season's clothes flatter plump women; so do to-day's hair styles. Take your hair up and off your face as much as you like, so long as you give yourself enough width at the top to balance the breadth of your chin.

As for make-up, go easy with rouge, and take care to blend it carefully into your skin with no sudden edges anywhere. Keep it fairly high on your face, and shade it round under your cheekbones. Don't put any on your chin; that's a trick for long faces trying to look shorter.

EYEBROWS: Don't exaggerate the downward curve of your eyebrows; if you help them along with an eye pencil, carry the line on and fairly straight.

POWDER: You can do a lot of subtle shading on your face by using different tones of powder. For instance, if your cheeks are inclined to be too round, use a slightly darker powder for the outside of your face than for the part round your eyes and nose (taking care, of course, to blend the two invisibly together where they meet).

The same with a suggestion of a second chin—which is one of the snags round faces have to watch for. Powder your neck, underneath your chin line, with powder a good two shades darker than the colour you use for your face. It's amazing the way that makes a chin look clear-cut.

SHADOW for the eyes should be concentrated towards the outside corner of your eyelids, narrowing down to a point. (To lengthen and enlarge your eyes).

LIPSTICKS should be darker the centre of your mouth, shading off towards the outside corners. A thin mouth should be made up right to its outside edges; a large mouth only to just within the lip line, and powdered well up to the edge.

PROMPT AID WANTED

THE MOVING APPEAL made by Miss Shu Shu-hing in an exclusive interview published by the "Hongkong Daily Press" on Thursday following her return from the war fronts cannot but have anything but a hearty response. War, with its heavy toll of dead and killed and its thousands of homeless refugees, lies at the very doors of Hongkong and the Colony has been most fortunate that it has seen nothing of the horrors of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, except for some moving pictures and a few thousand refugees.

Miss Shu has brought home most forcibly her plea for immediate aid for the sufferers, civilians and soldiers alike, and we are certain that it will not be heeded. Residents of Hongkong, European and Chinese, have already been heavily taxed as a result of the numerous calls upon their generosity, but they will, we have every confidence, not hesitate once more to dig into their pockets—this time even more deeply than they have done in the past—in the hope of doing a little to alleviate the sufferings of those in the war-torn areas.

"We are in urgent need of gas masks, medical supplies, winter clothes, ambulances, workers and carriers. . . . For the sake of humanity and the justice of our cause, for the sake of freedom, help us. . . . Please urge the people of Hongkong to contribute more generously to aid us in this unequal war that has been forced upon us. Beg them to give of their wealth to help us to buy gas masks, medical supplies and winter clothing." Miss Shu says.

COULD ANYTHING BE MORE TOUCHING than this appeal by Miss Shu? Is it the kind of appeal that can go in one ear and out the other? Miss Shu tells of the horrors of warfare, the severe hardships under which the Chinese military hospitals are operated, and the torture endured by the gallant Chinese soldiers, who are fighting for the salvation not only of their ancestral land but for MORALE and justice.

CHINA'S UNSHAKEN peace and justice. She has ably described the horrors of gas warfare, resorted to by the Japanese, who, in spite of their superior equipment, mechanized and what not, have been unable to break down China's resistance and China's morale. Her story of the barbaric deeds of the invading forces brings revulsion into the hearts of everybody, the Japanese themselves not excepted.

THE GRAPHIC ACCOUNT given to the "Daily Press" is borne out by all who have returned from the fronts and the consensus is that, in spite of their dreadful suffering, the Chinese soldier is as cheerful and as stoical as ever, confident in the fact that his country will emerge victorious from this war and knowing that he has done his bit. Miss Shu confirms all that others have said before and she has been very moderate in her account of gas warfare, the horrors of which are too ghastly for words. She could even have put her case more strongly in this respect but she did not do so, well realizing that the world knows exactly what is going on, and that anything she might say would be superfluous.

SHE COULD, HOWEVER, well have dwelt on the sufferings of the soldiers and the civilians now that the cold months are coming on. She could have given her interview something of the life of the soldiers who, in spite of frost-bite and the loss of their fingers, etc., as a result of the intense cold, have been carrying on so bravely as ever. But perhaps she did not do so because she did not actually witness any of these cases herself and she preferred to give simple facts concerning the life of those at the front and the arrangements for their relief as she saw them.

However, she has told an honest and straightforward story, which we emphasize, cannot fail to impress those who have read her interview.

ESCAPE FROM LINER

Fugitive Caught In Colony

Escaping from a cell aboard the President Coolidge during her stay in the Colony this week was a United States Federal prisoner, Frank Lopez, his alias his real name being unknown.

The prisoner has served two prison terms in America and was lately released from Folsom Prison in California on parole. Skipping his parole in the States he embarked on a tramp steamer for Manila where he was picked up by the police department.

The charges against him in the southern city are robbery and unlawful possession of firearms besides the charge of breaking his parole in the United States.

The police in the Colony apprehended the fugitive who had succeeded in leaving the Dollar liner and held him here.

Yesterday morning the President Coolidge left the Kowloon wharf and proceeded to the stream where she awaited the arrival of the police with the fugitive who will proceed to San Francisco where he will be turned over to the proper authorities.

Inspector H. W. Fraser of the S. C. A. told the Court that defendant arrived in the Colony on October 19, and almost immediately went to the S. C. A. The girls were well treated and expressed their wish to remain with the defendant.

CLAIM FOR DAMAGES SUCCEEDS

Defendant's evidence was that he first saw plaintiff about May 20 regarding his employment as master. He gave him the letter of appointment on May 27 at the same time informing him that the charter-party was to be for 1 month's trial and a further 6 months if satisfactory; that all the employees were to be taken on for 1 month. Plaintiff replied "That's alright; if the charter is to go on for the 6 months continue to employ me." He dismissed plaintiff on July 25 as the charterers were not willing to carry on after the month's trial. He subsequently got a new charter-party for the Watchow run.

In cross-examination he admitted that when he discussed wages with plaintiff some time prior to May 27 he omitted to mention the possibility of the employment being only for 1 month as it had not occurred to him to do so.

EVIDENCE CLOSED

This closed the evidence and solicitor for the defendant then very rightly intimated that he could not argue that the terms of plaintiff's employment as set out in the letter of May 27 were subject in any way to anything contained in the charter-party. It was abundantly clear to me that defendant's evidence was altogether insufficient to rebut the presumption that he intended the letter to contain a full statement of the essential terms of plaintiff's employment. Apart then from one point to be mentioned later—the only issue for decision was "What was reasonable notice in the present case?"

Reference was made to the Court record of S. J. Action No. 1346/1923 Watson v. Nemazez where the defendant was summarily dismissed and succeeded in that action in recovering 3 months' wages in lieu of notice. In that case Gompertz J said "It is, I think, well settled that some notice that is reasonable notice is to be implied as a term of such contract of hiring as this. The case of Green v. Wright I.C.P.D. 581 shows how in the absence of a clear contract to that effect the Courts lean against a power of summary dismissal. This case has been followed more than once in this Court and judges sitting as a jury have held 3 months' notice to be reasonable notice in the case of the master of a ship.

Solicitor for the defendant argued that there was no evidence from which the Court could find that 3 months' notice was reasonable. If there was any evidence on which the Court could find what is reasonable it was 24 hours or perhaps the period July 26—August 2. It was the duty of the plaintiff to bring evidence that 3 months' notice was reasonable. The case of Watson v. Nemazez should not be taken as an authority. It concerned an ocean-going vessel and not a river steamer.

Solicitor for the plaintiff maintained that the Nemazez case was well-known; that it remained law until overruled and there was no sufficient reason to justify the Court in departing from the 3 months' rule.

1905 CASE QUOTED

My attention has since been drawn to the newspaper report of a case tried in 1905 by the then Chief Justice Sir H. Berkeley sitting in Summary Jurisdiction: Casey v. Wing On Steamboat Co. I think both Solicitors have since read that report. There Casey was in command of the s.s. "Chu Kong," a West River boat, and was notified after a few months that his services were no longer required. Judgment was given in that case for plaintiff for the equivalent of three months' salary. I see no reason whatever to depart from these decisions and find that 3 months' notice is reasonable notice.

The only other point in the case concerned the item of $54.85 claimed as balance of wages due for July 26 to August 2. Solicitor for the defendant referred to Hallahan Vol. 22 para. 278 and 279 where the law on this subject is set out. A servant wrongfully discharged has two remedies open to him either to treat the contract as continuing and bring an action against his master for breaking it by discharging him or, if his wages are not paid to the time of his discharge, to treat the contract as rescinded. A servant may elect to pursue either remedy at his option but he is bound by his election and cannot pursue both remedies. In the latter form of action he can only recover wages up to the time of his discharge. Here plaintiff was pursuing both remedies by claiming wages due and at the same time damages for breach of contract. As the wages from July 26 to August 2 had been paid the claim for damages should be struck out. Solicitor for the plaintiff maintained that the balance of wages was part of the general damages suffered.

REASONABLE NOTICE

As I have found three months' notice is reasonable, then if plaintiff was discharged on July 25, he is only entitled to recover three months' salary less any amounts he has earned elsewhere. If he was discharged on August 2 he is entitled to recover the $54.85 and three months' salary on the action for breach of contract. It is not stated in the particulars of claim on what day plaintiff says he was dismissed but his evidence was that he considered himself still employed as master up to August 2, when he was replaced. Defendant in his defence denied that plaintiff was employed as master during July 26 to August 2, but he paid this as wages to plaintiff on October 8. If plaintiff was discharged on July 25 then he is pursuing both remedies which he cannot do but I think his claim is based on the grounds that he was really dismissed on August 2. At all events the defendant has paid this sum to plaintiff and it is no longer in dispute.

I therefore give judgment for plaintiff for $548.75 and cost.

TRAFFICKING IN GIRLS

Hearing Again Adjourned

Further evidence was heard at the Central Court yesterday when two women, Chu Po-chu and Chan Lo-sam, appeared on remand before Mr. H. R. Butters on charges in connection with trafficking in women and girls.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss, Assistant Crown Solicitor, led the prosecution while Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios appeared for the defence.

Chu Oi-fan, one of the girls concerned, said that she was sold to Chu in April last year in Shanghai, and was taken to Swatow where she was forced to practise prostitution. After that she was brought to Hongkong where she was pressed to practise prostitution under the control of Chu.

After a few days in Hongkong she was again taken to Swatow, but returned to the Colony later when she lived in Staunton Street and earned her living as a guide in an escort bureau.

After cross-examination, the hearing was adjourned to October 25.

POSSESSION OF PINE TREES

Sentence of three months' hard labour, with the alternative of a fine of $250, was imposed on each of the two defendants Wong Yuk, 23, and Li Fook, 44, who appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday charged with the possession of pine trees.

Wong Yuk was arrested with 12 small pine trees. He had one previous conviction for the same offence, and was recommended for banishment.

INDECENT SHOW

With a previous conviction against him for a similar offence in April this year, Seto Chau, 18, appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of exposing indecent pictures to the public on Wednesday, and was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

Wan Yip, 21, who was with Chau, was given one month's hard labour, with the alternative of a fine of $25.

CHINESE GUERILLAS ATTACK PAOTING

SUCCESSES REPORTED IN THREE PROVINCES

Loyang, October 21.

Intensifying their activities along the Peiping-Hankow Railway, Chinese guerillas launched a furious attack on Paoting, provincial capital of Hopei, now under Japanese occupation, on Wednesday night. Fierce fighting continued until yesterday morning.

In the meantime, another Chinese mobile unit attacked Wangtu, southwest of Paoting on the same railway, and drove the Japanese out of the town. Fighting also occurred on the same day at Chengting, north of Shihchichang. Traffic on the Peiping-Hankow Railway has now been disrupted.

Two Japanese troop trains have been derailed respectively at Potowchen and Pingyuan, south of Tientsin along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, in the past few days, as a result of damage done to the track by guerillas, states a Tientsin report.

All the Japanese aboard the trains are said to have been killed. At Hochwang, in the vicinity of Potowchen, a party of more than 400 Japanese soldiers was recently annihilated by Chinese guerillas in an ambush.

NORTH HONAN SUCCESSES
Chinese successes on various sectors in north Honan are revealed in the latest military dispatches just received here.

Linchang, east of Tzschien on the Honan-Hopei border, was re-occupied by the Chinese on Wednesday following a surprise night attack. The Japanese were badly beaten and retreated to the north in confusion.

On the Shaoyuan sector, west of Tsyuan, the Chinese launched simultaneous attacks on the Japanese from the east and south on October 17 and inflicted 600 casualties. At present, the town of Shaoyuan is cleared of Japanese troops.

Yesterday, the Chinese at Foshangchen intercepted a Japanese detachment withdrawing to the east from Tsyuan. The Japanese suffered heavy losses.

Meanwhile, fierce fighting between the Japanese and Chinese forces is in progress at Wushan, a height in the outskirts of Tsyuan.—Central News.

JAPANESE ATTACKS IN SOUTH HONAN REPULSED

Lishan, Hupeh, Oct. 21.
A small unit of Japanese troops yesterday made a fresh attack on Tankiaho, to the southwest of Liulin station on the Peiping-Hankow Railway in south Honan, but was repulsed. The town was recently recaptured by the Chinese.

A Japanese attack on Yuho, to the northwest of Sinyang, was also repulsed.

In the Shao sector, in south eastern Honan, the Japanese are reported to have renewed their southward drive to invade Hupeh. Chinese forces are stubbornly resisting.—Central News.

JAPANESE CRUSHINGLY DEFEATED IN SHANSI

Sian, Oct. 21.

The Japanese who had recently withdrawn to Kaolochen in south Shansi after a serious reverse at Yuanku, important town on the Shansi-Honan border, suffered another crushing defeat on October 18 and are now in full retreat northwards to Heng-Hingwan, according to a dispatch from the front.

Launching simultaneous attacks on the invaders from the east, south and west, the Chinese smashed through the Japanese defences and recaptured several important villages and heights overlooking Kaolochen.

On the following day, a general attack from the three sides was resumed. After a sanguinary battle lasting several hours, the Japanese were beaten and commenced a general retreat, leaving behind many dead and a large quantity of war supplies.—Central News.

No Japanese In Canton-Kowloon Railway Zone

(BY "DAILY PRESS" STAFF REPORTER.)

I REACHED PINGWU, WHICH RUMOUR STATED HAD BEEN OCCUPIED BY THE JAPANESE several days ago, and found no signs of Japanese troops nor any damage done to the railway track between Shumchun and Pingwu. The inhabitants reported that several air raids had taken place since the Japanese landed at Bias Bay on October 12.

I WAS TOLD BY THE LOCAL POLICE that there were no Japanese troops either at Lungkong to the east of Pingwu, nor at Cheungmuktau along the railway to the north.

From Tamshui it was stated that the Japanese have occupied the town. But they have been prevented from moving along the Tamshui-Lungkong highway by Chinese troops entrenched about two miles outside Tamshui. The highway bridge across the tributary of the Tungkong river has been destroyed. But the Chinese are counter-attacking from the north-west.

According to the reports of two truck drivers of vehicles which were bombed on the highway, there are no Japanese troops in the vicinity of the Waihow-Lungkong highway, between the Kutiung and Lungkong. These

There were rumours that a ban was placed upon the export of chickens and pigs into Hongkong, but it proved incorrect and the peasants are bringing their stock and poultry as well as vegetables into Shumchun and Sheungshui. Rice is the only commodity upon which there is a ban.

Newspapers from Hongkong have been banned on account of the publication of garbled reports and rumours alleged to have originated from tainted sources.

It was possible from a certain place to get into telephonic communication with the magistrate at Po On. He stated that no Japanese troops landed or attempted to men stated that their truck was in the region of Cheungmuktau and they then walked to Lungkong, via Kutiung. Asked why they did not come the shorter route along the railway line, they stated that they thought it more probable that Japanese planes would fly over the railway zone than along the highway. There were no signs, nor did the local authorities report that any refugees from areas beyond Cheungmuktau were trekking towards Shumchun.

WORK CONTINUED
In the fields on both sides of the railway tracks the peasants are continuing with their work. The crops are ripe for harvesting.

Chinese Attack Scores Near Yangsinchen

Tungshan, October 21.

A furious counter-attack, following the fall of Yangsinchen on the morning of October 19, has again strengthened the Chinese positions on the east Hyper front along the Kichun-Sienning highway. A Central News correspondent reports.

The determined Chinese attack launched in the early morning of yesterday, chose as its target the strategic height of Hoshannao to the southeast of Yangsinchen. It is estimated that during the sanguinary engagement more than 700 Japanese were killed and five machine-guns seized.

At the same time the Chinese were attacking Hoshannao, the Chinese heavy artillery swung into action and roared away in an incessant bombardment at the Japanese positions at Fenghuang-tien. The Japanese gun emplacements were repeatedly hit and

It is known that three of the four heavy Japanese pieces were destroyed.

Fenghuangtsien, according to military reports received here, was hotly contested by the opposing forces and on October 18 changed hands no less than five times between the Chinese and Japanese.

Immediately after the fall of Yangsinchen, the Chinese launched a counter-attack on Hoshannao and scored a heavy success which relieved considerably the Japanese pressure in their drive towards Sienning.—Central News.

MYSTERIOUS DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Mr. Hore-Belisha Calls In Police

Mysterious damage to the property of Mr. Leslie Hore-Belisha has resulted in a day and night police patrol at his farmhouse home on Wimbledon Common, London, writes a Home correspondent.

"Sabotage" of an electricity power plant and of the engine of his new motor-car is suspected and now everybody who approaches the house is under the supervision of a uniformed policeman.

The War Minister acquired Old Warren Farm and its acre of ground from Lady Knudsen last June. He moved into the long, low, white-washed building in search of seclusion and quiet.

EXPERTS CALLED IN

Seclusion he found in the old farm, set in the most remote part of the common. Then came the interference with the power unit. Experts were called in.

Mr. Hore-Belisha reported the matter to the police, and officers from V division were moved in to keep watch on all visitors calling at the house.

Soon afterwards the Minister's new car inexplicably developed engine trouble. Mechanics gave their verdict, and now the police, keeping watch in shifts, patrol the premises day and night.

When I called at the farm, after a two-mile tramp across common land, a policeman stepped out from the dim interior of the stables.

WATCH STOPS TROUBLE

"It is private property here, you know," he said. "I am allowed to let you in only because you have an appointment."

Neighbours told me that since the police watch there has been no further trouble with the lighting plant or the car.

Last June it was stated that the special police protection given to Mr. Hore-Belisha was in no way associated with parliamentary matters, but that a detective had been detailed to attend the War Minister for purely private reasons.

SAFETY ZONE PROPOSAL

The British and American Consuls-General in Canton have sent a telegram to the Japanese Consul-General in Hongkong asking him to agree to the establishment of an international committee in Canton, jointly organized by the British and American residents, to make arrangements for the accommodation and safety of the women, children and aged in case Canton is besieged.

The Lingnan University and the Holy Trinity Middle School are suggested as refuge camps, while the David Gregg Hospital, as the refuge hospital. This suggestion has met with the approval of the Chinese authorities.

The King's Surprise For Mr. Chamberlain

Barely has there been a more stirring moment in all the dramatic history of Buckingham Palace than when the King greeted Mr. Neville Chamberlain after the Premier's flight back from his successful talk with Herr Hitler.

Tired by his long journey, but buoyed up by the enthusiasm of the crowds, Mr. Chamberlain was taken up in the lift as usual by the Lord-in-Waiting.

On the first floor a blue liveried page opened the gilt doors of the lift, stood aside for the Prime Minister and the Lord-in-Waiting to come out.

At the door of the King's audience-room the King's page stood to announce, "The Right Honourable the Prime Minister, Your Majesty," and Mr. Chamberlain walked in.

INVITED TO PALACE
Then came a happy surprise, prepared for him by the Queen, who had sent a personal note in her own handwriting across to 10 Downing Street, suggesting that Mrs. Chamberlain might like to come to the Palace to meet her husband, and she stood there between the King and Queen.

Before the Lord-in-Waiting had time to make the usual formal announcement of the Prime Minister's presence, the King overriding Court conventions and etiquette, stepped forward and shook hands warmly with the Prime Minister.

Then the King stepped back with a smile while Mrs. Chamberlain welcomed her husband with an affectionate embrace. After a few moments of general talk, followed by their historic appearance on the balcony to thrill the great crowds outside the Palace, the King and Mr. Chamberlain were left alone to spend a quarter of an hour discussing what had happened at Munich.

HAPPY AGAIN
Those who have been near the King throughout that trying fortnight, say that he aged ten years during the crisis—but now he is his happy, smiling self again.

If the King wished to reward Mr. Chamberlain with an honour like a Knighthood of the Garter, he would have to take a very unusual course, and ask the Prime Minister to send a submission to the Palace, recommending himself for the honour.

This is because, although the Sovereign is the fount of honour, he can only bestow honours in accordance with the recommendations of the Government, which

NO PANIC IN MACAO

Conditions Are "Near-Normal"

Nearly 4,000 people arrived in Hongkong from Macao during the past ten days, according to figures obtained by a "Daily Press" representative yesterday.

A number of passengers who arrived by yesterday's steamer stated that the general feeling in that port was one of uneasy waiting, but there could be no sense in being said to be a panic.

Food prices are much the same and on the whole things may be summed up as near-normal.

MEDITERRANEAN QUESTIONS

Paris, Oct. 21.
The British Ambassador to Paris, Sir Eric Phipps, had a lengthy conference yesterday afternoon with the French Foreign Minister, M. Bonnet, on the Mediterranean questions.

must be signed and forwarded to him by the Premier, as the head of the Cabinet.

The alternative to this would be for the King to confer one of his two personal distinctions upon the Prime Minister—either the Order of Merit or a G.C.V.O. (Knight Grand Cross of Royal Victorian Order). But these honours, and these alone, are bestowed by the King, as representative of Government.

TRANSFER OF TANGANYIKA

Calcutta, Oct. 21.
"You cannot have one law for Sudestenland and another for Tanganyika," declared Subhas Chandra Bose, president of the Indian National Congress, in an interview with Reuters yesterday.

Regarding the anxiety of Indians in Tanganyika on the question of transfer of the territory to Germany, he said that the people in Tanganyika should have self-determination.

"They are not cattle that can be bought and sold at the sweet will of the big Powers," he said.—Reuters.

Nanchang, Oct. 21.
Military despatches report that a small company of Japanese troops was wiped out during a surprise Chinese attack on Hsing-kia, a small village under the jurisdiction of Singtze in the western bank of Poyang Lake on October 19.

According to Chinese refugees who have escaped to Nanchang from Singtze, the town has now been completely burned to the ground by fires set by the Japanese.—Central News.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA TO OUTLAW REDS

Communist Party Being Dissolved

Prague, Oct. 21.
The Communist Party in Czechoslovakia will be formally dissolved to-night in Bohemia and Silesia following its earlier prohibition in Slovakia and Ruthenia.

The Party is well-organised and was credited with the possession of extensive funds, and was represented in Parliament by 30 deputies.

All Communist newspapers, four of which are published in Prague, will now be suppressed. This important development is smoothing the path towards co-operation between Germany and Czechoslovakia.

TO-MORROW'S SOFTBALL PROGRAMME

Filipino Ladies To Meet Chinese Squad

(BY R. O. Y.)

Main interest in to-morrow's softball programme will be centred on the standard of play shown by the Filipino Club team, who are making their first league appearance, against the Hongkong English Forum.

The opening game, at 12.30 p.m., will see the league leaders, the Midgets, in action against the H. K. Baseball Club. Although the baseballers have the advantage of greater playing experience, they will be without the services of Thompson, their first string pitcher, and are not expected to beat the Midgets, who are quite the live-hest squad in local softball.

Good defensive play should be seen in the Filipino Club versus English Forum game, as both teams rely more on fielding ability than heavy hitting, to win their games. I understand that Manager Hedeonso has obtained the services of an excellent pitcher, and an advantage in this department should give the Filipinos the honours in a close game.

THE SECOND GAME

To wind up proceedings, the 3rd Machine Gun Coy. will do battle

SHANGHAI AGAIN!

Close Win Over Indians

Shanghai again proved their superiority to any team they have yet met locally at lawn bowls when they met the Indian Recreation Club at Soekunpoo yesterday and won by 19 shots to 18.

The game was more interesting than many of the previous ones that Shanghai has played in the present tour, but in fairness it must be added that they were not at full strength.

The teams were:—
SHANGHAI: K. L. Swartzell, A. Gerrard, J. W. Brerley, A. M. Gutierrez (skip) 19
INDIAN R.C.: J. Hoosen, D. M. Khan, M. R. Abbas, A. K. Minu (skip) 18
During the evening members of the Shanghai team were guests of the Indian R.C. at a very enjoyable "Indian Chow" party.

THE NOBEL PRIZE

Mr. H. G. Wells's suggestion in "The Times" that there could be no worthier recipient of the next Nobel Peace Award than Dr. Benes is inspired, I am sure, by a long-standing friendship, says a Home correspondent.

"H.G." was one of the first prominent Englishmen to visit Czechoslovakia after the war. He became an admirer and a highly esteemed friend of the late President Masaryk.

He has revisited Czechoslovakia on several occasions. He saw Dr. Benes in Prague as recently as last June.

Mr. Wells's suggestion will receive considerable support in this country. Opinions will differ about its merits, but it can be justified in one important respect.

History, I think, will record the verdict that no other living Czech could have persuaded his countrymen to accept the Munich terms.
